Profile

Full-stack developer specialized in React and NodeJS. I have a track record of designing and developing responsive and engaging web applications, API integration and development, and database design. I have multiple years of experience working with popular technologies like React, Redux, Javascript, Typescript, HTML, CSS, Node.js, Git, MongoDB, MySQL, e.t.c. I have a passion for both personal growth and software development. I have attended multiple coding Bootcamps to learn new technologies while sharpening existing skills. I am ready to apply my passion for software development to a talented engineering team that is solving problems at scale.
